I am so pleased that I found Jeanette when I did! Each domain of my life felt misaligned, and I was really in need of support and guidance. Jeanette provided this in abundance! She worked with me to identify my values – what drives me personally and professionally; what matters to me and what excites me.

Jeanette is aspirational for me and encourages me to be ambitious whilst also remaining sensitive to me as an individual. She is able to draw on her own extensive background of effective service delivery and management to help me with my thinking both about current work issues and about my next steps.
